THE SHOT-GUN ARGUMENT.

There can be no doubt that the shot gun argument is a very potent one in the Southern States Whenever it is applied to the colored voter we find that it is the work of Democrats who a little while ago were prominent rebels So far as we can perceive Republicans up to this time have not used the shot gun argument on colored voters by way of persuading them There never has been a complaint of this kind The Hamburg massacre had quite a different origin

Now when that shot-gun is used either to intimidate or persuade voters in the South, naturally enough there will be retaliations And so we find that here and there the negro takes up this offensive weapon and makes some defensive use of it In his ignorance he has not much discrimination, and he rarely does more then to provoke his white enemies to hunt him down Many of them are seeking for just such an opportunity These facts with other related ones will account for a great deal of the trouble which is now occurring in some of the Southern States The election is drawing near The shot gun is powerful Its use will be greatly restricted by the precaution which the Federal Government has taken to station a military force within easy reach of the districts where this violence is most likely to crop out. Of course there is the hue and cry on the part of these shot gun persuaders that the liberty of the elector is endangered

It is sometimes necessary in order to maintain the peace to make some show of power If the Federal Government years ago had paid no other attention to the 'State rights' heresy than to have curbed the first show of rebellion, it never would have advanced to such formidable proportions When Gen Jackson threatened to hang Calhoun if he committed any overt act in his nullification proceedings, that declaration had a prodigious effect upon men who were nearly ready at that time to use the shot gun argument

There is another view of the case which ought not to be concealed There can be no greater calamity to the black population of the South than that they should outnumber the whites in any State In States where the blacks are in a minority, as in Tennessee, there is no trouble But in South Carolina where the blacks as voters outnumber the whites, that State has been nearly ruined The sober fact is that the black element of the South is not capable of taking the lead in any State At best it is an ignorant and weak population and its management of State affairs at present, means bankruptcy and ruin Wherever blacks are in the ascendency in the State government, there is an unprosperous condition of affairs

Now we have to do with this fact—a very repugnant one, and hardly less so to those who have the welfare of the black race at heart. It is only in a subordinate way that the black man gets along tolerably well at the South. When he is put forward to do more than vote, to lead in State affairs, it makes little difference whether he is the victim of his own ignorance or incapacity, or the rascalities of designing whites, or both, his statesmanship is a failure, and it will be for many years to come

No greater kindness can be done the black voters of the South now than urge them by all means to refrain from taking the absolute control of a single State Government They cannot secure in that way, the co-operation of the best men in the South—they utterly failed in that respect in South Carolina And wherever they fail they will be held responsible for all the mischief that is wrought The instincts of the colored population are right They naturally gravitate toward those public measures which seem to them to have the most humanity, and the most protection for weak men

They have been abused by such white politicians known as "carpet-baggers" as have played on their fears and their ignorance A great many blacks it is said will this year vote the Democratic ticket If they do so without the aid of the shot-gun argument, there can be no objection to this choice. At any rate the colored voter cannot do any worse than to be led or used by men who have gone to these States to ride into office on the prejudices of the blacks. In nine cases out of ten they will do better to vote for all such State measures as are approved by white men of good standing, whose interests are all bound up with the [illegible] voter wants [illegible]

half a century of common schools, independent industry, and a large increase of general intelligence At present he cannot be helped by the shot-gun argument, nor is it likely that those who resort to it will gain very much in the long run by such a diabolical method of controlling elections

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

The Legislature of Colorado will elect three Presidential Electors as well as two Senators

There are not enough policemen in Oakland by at least seven It is a false economy to keep the police force below the actual number needed. Better apply retrenchment somewhere else and muster policemen enough to protect the city

Mr Adams frigidity chills the Republican organs as far west as Chicago "He may" remarks the Tribune of that city, "cherish the magnanimous sentiment that there is room enough in the world for the Adams family and the Democratic of Massachusetts, but he doesn't deign to say so

The Jutland peasants are said to be very fond of the Danish royal family The Greek Queen Olga has been traveling in that region lately and at a banquet given at Viborg, the ancient capital of Jutland won all hearts by replying herself and in Danish to a toast given in her honor

The visit of the Prince of Wales to India is bearing some fruits The rulers in that country are replenishing their treasuries One of the Mahratta Princes has reduced by fifty per cent his allowance to religious institutions and another is about to do the same, and also abolish the courts of justice

The sales of "Daniel Deronda" in this country has reached 60 000 copies which fact may tend to reconcile George Eliot with the judgment of certain reviewers that she doesn't know how a novel should be written But the reviewers accept Carlyle's phrase and add that the 60,000 are "mostly fools

The most successful American book of the season is 'Helen's Babies, published by the Lorings, of Boston Thirty thousand copies of it have already been sold and the demand is not yet satisfied Like most other successful books by unknown authors, it was offered to several publishers and refused before it at last reached the right man

The Coroner of Boston is charged with having abducted a child in order to furnish a young and childless couple from San Francisco with apparent offspring and thus secure to them the possession of a handsome legacy The case is the more aggravating, as there must be in Boston many children fit for adoption who could inherit wealth as well as the particular little one stolen from his mother An investigation is to be instituted

McMahon was preparing to get into the train at Luzy All at once, an old woman in a state of great excitement, was seen forcing her way through the crowd, and approaching the Duke de Magenta she exclaimed "Oh! I must see him once more before I die" The Marshal hastened to meet the peasant-woman, clasped her hands warmly, and talked a few minutes with her, until she somewhat recovered from her emotion She was no other than the nurse of the Marshal the widow Rinaud aged 89

We sympathise with the colored brother who described his frame of mind in this paragraph "Well, uncle, how is the cause of religion geting on in your neighborhood?" "Mighty poor —mighty poor" "No new converts eh?" "Not a single one—not do sign of one" "What seems to be the matter?" asked the citizen after a lengthy pause "De matter is dat some one hez stolen four big watermelons out o my cart dis afternoon, an' I feel in my bones dat religion is gwine down hill all froo dis locality"

Uncle Jimmy Blue Jeans is about the poorest and weakest demagogue this country has ever produced, and it has brought forth first and last a pretty liberal crop He arrived at a hotel at Anderson, Indiana, the other day, and when the landlord went to order his supper humble Uncle Jimmy said "I wish you would have my supper set in the kitchen I am more used to the kitchen, and it would be more agreeable to me" Such a man would not feel at home in the Governor's chair—he should be left in the kitchen

George William Curtis addressed a large Republican mass meeting at Concord, N H, last Friday evening, in which he predicted that New York would vote for Hayes in November, and said Mr Dorsheimer told us in Faneuil hall, the other evening, that General Hayes was "an amiable, well-meaning and negative man" A negative man is he? Yes When the tide of battle was raging in our country he put a negative upon George H Pendleton in Ohio After the war he put a negative upon Senator Thurman Last fall, in the hardest contest ever waged in this country between honest and rag money, he put a negative on old Bill Allen And mark my word, on the 7th of November next he will put another negative upon Samuel J Tilden"

The statement of David Swing is worth reading over many times True merit is never fond of display Hence comes the phrase "barbaric splendor" In the palaces of the Turk, in the halls the Aztec the greatest displays of history are located There the mind lay in feebleness, full of coarse passion or childish littleness In the heart of Africa the great traveler Schweinfurth, found the same love of the "high style" He found a jet-black princess whose body was weighed down by over a hundred pounds of African jewelry Her ankles, her arms her waist and her neck, were laden with rude iron rings. The taste ran to iron at those African receptions Thus the history of display is all interwoven with the history of barbarian life The moment the higher faculties of the mind began to be developed, splendor began to move from without inward Decoration moved away from the tapestry and wardrobe to reappear in the soul True greatness has always been plain

The strangest enterprise next to the Brooklyn bridge, blasting Hell Gate, and tunneling the Hudson river, is laying a pipe from the oil regions to the seaboard. Yet the latter scheme is already a contract The pipe is to be a lap welded tubing, four inches in diameter, and is to run the immense distance of 273 miles The pipe and the driving engine to keep the oil in motion will cost from $1,200,000 to $1,500,000. The course of the pipe is to be right over the natural surface of the country, 2½ feet under ground, and near the populous places so that it can be watched and mended Oil now costs $3 85 a barrel at the wells and sells for $6 30 in New York There is a margin of $2 45 a barrel The pipe can carry 6,000 barrels a day at a cost of 15 cents a barrel, the railways cannot haul it to the seaboard under 40 cents a barrel. Low prices prevailed for a long time and discouraged production, but as the supply was exhausted the rates rose, and 30,000 barrels a day are now pumped from the ground, while the market would warrant the production of 40,000 barrels. Mr Houpt, long engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, has given his judgment for this enterprise and made the surveys and estimates Pumps will be stationed at long intervals along the tube to drive the oil, and one pump now exists which with ease drives a column of oil 28 miles

COST OVER TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The Neighborhood is Unexceptionable

And the property is held by such men and at such prices as to guarantee its continuing to be so Mr H P Livermore's magnificent place is not far distant that of Col Jack Hayes is near and in the immediate vicinity there are many beautiful buildings and sites owned by Peter Donahue the railroad magnate Edward Martin, of the Hibernia Savings and Loan Society in San Francisco Judge W H Glascock, Rev Dr Fells, Capt A M Barnes of the San Francisco Harbor Commission Capt. Most of the land there is held at $1 800 to $2 000 per acre The property is distant three miles from Broadway Station, Oakland and little more than a mile from the Alcatraz Station upon the new line to [illegible] distant day pass within two minutes walk of the [illegible]

To those seeking homes in the vicinity of PAGODA HILL

VERNON PARK, OAKLAND,

Offers the greatest inducements of any locality in the State of California This assertion is advisedly made

The CLIMATE of Oakland is far milder than that of San Francisco Most residents of Oakland are beginning to recognize the fact that the climate of the foot hills is milder and warmer than that of the flats below, and the lay of the land causes the locality between Mr H P Livermore's magnificent residence upon the south and the Deaf and Dumb Asylum upon the north to be the warmest and mildest of any section between San Pablo and Mills Seminary

The view from this neighborhood is one of unsurpassed loveliness and grandeur The altitude is nearly three hundred feet above the level of the bay although the gradual ascent in approaching it hides that fact from the casual observer Toward the east you have a fine view of the hills Oakland to the south and west Berkeley to the north the whole low land dotted over with residences with groups of trees here and there the Long Wharf with its frequently passing trains, Goat Island Alcatraz the bay with its steamers plying to and fro and numerous sailing vessels and San Francisco Menlo Park and San Rafael backed by towering Tamalpais in the distance all combine to produce one of the grandest and most varied pieces of landscape to be found perhaps in the world

The property to which attention is now especially directed is immediately adjoining PAGODA HILL the residence of the late J Ross Browne It is one of the choice spots of the neighborhood, commanding a fine view well retired and unaltered It contains FOUR ACRES of land high where the houses [illegible] falling some 8 or 10 feet to the road upon the north and sloping gently to the creek upon the south The creek could with very little expenditure be made a beautiful feature of the place

THE JURY DISAGREE.

Trial of J. L. Fernandez on a Charge of Selling Beer Without a License.

The case of J. L. Fernandez was on trial in the Police Court yesterday before a jury, and occupied the time of the Court up to the middle of the afternoon. The offense charged was selling malt liquor without a license, and Fernandez acted as both defendant and counsel. He testified that he gave away two or three glasses of beer in the morning to parties who dropped in, and furthermore was feeling in a generous humor as it was his birthday. About noon one of the parties he had treated in the morning came into the house in company with four or five other parties and called for beer which he dealt out to them. They tendered him money in payment for the beverage which it seems he took and put in the drawer, but remarked at the time he had no license and could not sell beer, but he would give them cigars. The party took cigars and went out and a short time afterward Ferandez found himself in limbo. After a long siege on the question of guilt or innocence the jury disagreed and were discharged. A new trial of the case will be had on October 13th. In Massachusetts, under the prohibition laws, men have done a profitable business by selling their customers a cracker and giving them a glass of beer or cider, but we don't know how the California climate affects such transactions, and therefore make no predictions as to how the case will turn out.

ABSCONDED.

Alfred deR. Ver Mehr, Book-keeper for Parrott & Co., Robs His Employers and Sails for Mexico.

A Victim of the Vice of Gambling and Fast Women.

The Bulletin this evening will publish the following account of the latest sensation in San Francisco business and social circles, which came to the notice of the public this afternoon:

The steamer "Newbern" which sailed on Saturday last for Mexico, carried with her a young man named Alfred de R. Ver Mehr, who having betrayed the confidence reposed in him by his employers, was fleeing from the country with his ill-gotten booty, and seeking an asylum in a foreign land. Alfred Ver Mehr is the son of the Rev. John L. Ver Mehr a respected retired Episcopal clergyman, resident in this city. For over ten years, the young man has been in the employ of Parrott & Co., Commission Merchants, No. 306 California street, as clerk, and commanded their entire confidence. During the whole of this long period of faithful service, his employers never once had any cause to suspect his integrity. They confided in him so far as to trust him with the collection of their accounts. Friday last was the semi-monthly collection day, and as was his custom, Ver Mehr shouldered his coin bag and went his regular semi-monthly rounds. He collected, altogether, about $24,000, at all events, that is the sum total so far as the firm of Parrott & Co have been able to make it out. All of this money he is known to have carried off with him. Ver Mehr, it now appears, has not been leading a life of rectitude for some time past. About eighteen months ago he picked up a strumpet named Gussie Mott, and has been living with her ever since. It has also been discovered that he was a frequenter of a gambling den kept by the notorious Billy Briggs, and a member of a club known as the California, which bears a reputation scarcely any better. He was receiving a salary of $2,000 a year from Parrott & Co., but owing to his propensity for gambling and the expense of supporting a mistress, he was unable to make both ends meet.

Gussie Mott, Ver Mehr's mistress, is a passenger on the same steamer as the one on which he absconded, having booked under the name of Mrs. Harris. Investigation reveals the fact that the two had intended to sail on the previous steamer for Mexico, having secured tickets at the office of the agents, but delayed their departure for some reason at present unknown, unless it was that he had failed to secure a sum of money large enough to satisfy his own and his mistresse's cupidity.

Alfred de R. Ver Mehr is a young man of fine appearance. He is six feet in stature and well proportioned, light complexioned, blonde, short curly hair, prominent front teeth, and wears a blonde moustache. No effort will be spared by his late employers to bring him to justice. They don't regret the money so much as they do the betrayal of their confidence. The greatest sympathy is felt and expressed for the young man's venerable father who has been thus disgraced in his old age by the dishonesty of an unworthy son.

LADIES' FAIR.

In Aid of the New Catholic Church—Voting for President—Father Serda.

The ladies of the Catholic Church, under the charge of Rev. Father Lawrence Serda, are still holding their Festival and Fair in Armory Hall, on Thirteenth street, between Broadway and Franklin. The attendance in the evening is constantly increasing, and last night a busy throng was engaged in enjoying the festivities of the occasion. The display of fancy articles on exhibition and for sale is very creditable, and the several stands are well loaded with silverware, pictures, wax-work, fancy needle-work and worsted-work, and articles of vertu. The ladies in charge of various stands are Mrs. LaFleche, Mrs. Montgomery, and Mrs. Lewis who preside at the fancy tables, and Mrs. Curtis who has control of the children's table. The refreshment stand is in charge of Mrs. Cadogan, who with an able corps of assistants, manages the kitchen and dining room department. One important and novel feature is a ballot-box where for the sum of twenty-five cents the voter is allowed to deposit a vote for either of the Presidential candidates. A beautiful gold mounted, rosewood cane is the prize to be sent to the party obtaining the largest number of votes during the Fair. Until last night the Democratic candidate was ahead, but about 9 o'clock Hayes passed his competitor, and retained the lead when the TRIBUNE representative departed. The general supervision of the Fair is under Father Serda, who is an extremely affable gentleman, and a much-loved priest. He was formerly stationed in San Jose, but now in Oakland, devoting his energies to the building of a new Church, and the proceeds of the present Fair are to be directed towards this object.

Hudson vs. Ames.

This suit is an action brought to recover the value of sheep sold, and will be called for trial on the first Wednesday in the January term.

Yellow Fever in Brooklyn.

Territorial Transit Mail Charges.

WASHINGTON, October 6th.—Postmaster-General Tyner and Sir Edward Thornton, acting in behalf of Great Britain and this country, signed an agreement to-day that territorial transit charges to be paid by the British Post-office to the United States for conveying closed mails between Boston or New York and San Francisco, shall be six francs per kilogramme of letters, (about 2 pounds and 3 ounces) and two francs per kilogramme on printed matter and samples of merchandise. These new and largely increased rates apply to all mails conveyed across our territory, on and after August 24th, 1876. And agreements is terminable in one year's notice.

The New York Mining Board.

NEW YORK, October 6th.—There seems to be a want of confidence on the part of New Yorkers in the New American Mining Board, recently established here. Its meetings are thinly attended and very little energy is displayed by those present. The Board issues a daily official report of transactions, which shows that a greater part of the business is done after the close of the regular call. At this morning's session, 2,100 shares changed hands at the following figures: 200 Crown Point, $12@$12½; 200 Exchequer, $17; 1,100 Grant, $3¾@$5; 300 Merrimac, 40@50c; 100 Overman, $85; 100 Sierra Nevada, $11.

They state that after the battle of September 1st they were on the point of crossing into Moravia and entering Aloxinatz when they were stopped by the Turkish regular troops, who were ordered to shoot all who attempted to cross.

The Turks Again Assume the Offensive.

PESTH, October 6th.—The Turks have again taken the offensive. Osman Pasha has left Baltchar and moved up the valley of the Timok in the direction of Knjazevatz. The Turks have also collected sixteen battalions at Babina Laska. This seems to indicate a turning movement in the direction of Banja or Lucova. October 3d the Turks forced the passage of Moravia at three points. Their headquarters are now advanced to Slezoone.

The Republican Victory in Colorado Confirmed.

The Georgia Elections.

Republican Prospects in Indiana Brightening.

The Georgia Election.

ATLANTA, (Ga.), October 5th.—Returns received show that Colquitt, Democrat, is elected Governor by 40,000 majority. There was virtually no opposition. The Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic.

[LATER.]

ATLANTA, (Ga.), October 5th.—The official figures point to a probable Democratic majority of 75,000.

COLUMBUS, (Ga.), October 5th.—All the counties in this section have been heard from, but the official figures can not yet be given. General Colquitt, Democratic nominee for Governor, in proportion to the vote cast has the largest majority ever given in this State. The vote was light. The Democrats defeated the Independents and Republicans for the Legislature in every case. Not a freedman was elected. This embraces a dozen counties.

The Campaign in Indiana.

CHICAGO, October 5th.—The Tribune's Washington special says.

The Democratic story that the Republican Congressional Committee has sent $100,000 to Indiana is false. The total amount collected by the Committee is $60,000, and only one portion thereof has been sent to Indiana to support speakers there in the Republican campaign. The Committee to-day received information leading to the belief that the Republicans will have 10,000 majority in Indiana. It is probable that an important and hitherto unexpected movement may occur within two days, the result of which will greatly strengthen the Republican prospects.

Change of Independent Candidate for Governor of Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, October 5th.—At 11 o'clock to-night the Independent State Central Committee nominated Judge Henry Harrington, of Indianapolis, for Governor, in the place of Hon. Anson Wolcott, declined. They also passed resolutions denouncing Wolcott as a traitor to the Independent party, and charging him with having been corrupted by the Republican party. Judge Harrington has written a letter accepting the nomination. Ezra G. Hayes, Independent candidate for Congress in the Fifth District, also declined to-day.

Woodward's Antecedents.

NEW YORK, October 6th—A. M.—The Times' special from Hartford, Conn., says:

The Democrats take an interest in the return of Woodward, formerly of this State and New York. He was a Democratic Senator here for two years before the Times exposed the Tweed ring, and in the year following his Senatorship received votes in the Democratic State Convention for Lieutenant-Governor. Tweed, Jr., remarked in that year that it was the purpose of the New York "patriots" to make Woodward Governor of Connecticut.

Colorado Election—Original Reports Confirmed.

CHICAGO, October 5th.—The Tribune's Washington dispatches this evening confirm the original reports that Colorado has gone Republican. The State ticket and the United States Senators are certainly secured.

CANADA.

Railway Accident—Five Persons Killed.

PARIS (Ontario), October 5th.—An accident occurred to the express train bound east on the Great Western Railroad last night two miles from Princeton. Five persons were killed. The train was going at the rate of 35 miles an hour, and in a moment was thrown from the track and whirled into a ditch. The accident was caused by the breaking of a wheel of the tender. An examination of the wheel to-day showed that it was perfectly sound up to the time of breaking. The names of the killed were: William Cooper, engine driver; A. R. Irwin, fireman; J. Andrews, express messenger; Bright, baggage master; and a man supposed to be named McBride, belonging to Detroit, who was riding in the bagga[illegible]. None of the passengers were injured beyond a few scratches and bruises.

O'Grady Acquitted.

Russia Not to Present an Ultimatum—Prince Milan's Letter to the Czar.

LONDON, October 5th.—A telegram from Belgrade says:

It is expected that Russia will not present an ultimatum to be followed by a declaration of war. Negotiations will probably precede such action, as the treaty of Paris binds the signers in the event of misunderstanding, to give the Powers an opportunity of mediation. Roumania will join the fortunes of Russia. She now openly allows the passage of armed bodies through her territory.

Prince Milan has written a letter to the Czar expressing sorrow for the incident the latter's displeasure in connection with the army's proclamation of himself as King.

TELLING FORTUNES.

Sitting 'mid the daisies
Buried in the clover,
Pulling them to pieces,
A-thinking of my lover;
Asking of the robin
On the cherry bough;
"As I love him always,
Does he love me now?"
"Sweet!" says the robin,
"I am busy with my cherry,
Ask of the clover-top
Or daisy blithe and merry;
They'll surely tell you true, dear--
Truer far than I;
'Loves me--loves me not'--
Alas! dare you try?"
"Loves me--loves me not"--
I pick them one by one?
"Thinks of me--hates me"--
Till every leaf is gone.
The last word--O robin!
Guess it if you care--
He loves me? he loves me!
Doubt it if you dare!

OUT OF EVERY PREMIUM PAID TO A Life Insurance Company, a certain portion of the same is set aside called "premium reserve." In most companies in the United States this premium reserve is forfeited to the company in case of non-payment of premium when

The Policies thus forfeited are called Lapsed Policies.

The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Boston, is compelled by Massachusetts law to keep this reserve to the credit of its Lapsed Policies, and continue the policies in full force until this reserve is fully worked out.

This Company now has Policies in force under this law, varying from a few months to over ten years. The New England Life Insurance Company has paid over $115,000 on this coast on policies where the premiums were overdue at the time of the death of the insured.

The Massachusetts non-forfeiture law absolutely guarantees to every policy holder in the New England Mutual that he shall receive an insurance value in full for every dollar that he pays the Company.

This Company was incorporated in 1835, and now has assets of over $14,000,000.

Applications for insurance can be made to any of the licensed agents of the Company.
